Why is Western New York Prospering?

Educating Transformational Urban Leaders

If you want to know why Buffalo and Western New York are prospering, you should be a part of the Educating Transformational Urban Leaders course offered by Niagara University. The course (SOC 302) will look at the following topics:

- It's not the same old, same old Western New York
- Learning from our leaders in the trenches
- Community transformation in our region

Picture yourself in a classroom with real-world leaders, engaging in incredible discussions about the growth and prosperity in our region.

The course is designed to acquaint you with the historical, religious and sociocultural dynamics that affect the quality of life, inform theology and challenge the manner in which ministry is conducted in our urban world today.

Lead instructor: Rev. Al Warner

Rev. Warner is the founder of Set Free Inc., a networking ministry connecting leaders to build relationships and strategize for city transformation. Al has a masters degree in urbanology along with over 30 years experience pastoring local churches, including a term as missionary to Hong Kong. Al currently serves as chaplain of the Buffalo Common Council (Buffalo's chief legislative body) and to seven businesses.

Guest lecturers may include:

Dr. Ray Bakke, author of A Theology as Big as the City: Global and urban expert

Bishop Darius Pridgen, Buffalo Common Council president and True Bethel Baptist Church pastor

Sandra Ryce, president and CEO of SLR Contracting

Nick Sinatra, president and founder of Sinatra & Co.

Hon. Anthony Masiello, former mayor of Buffalo

Project Management Fundamentals

There are more projects occurring today than at any time in history. Organizations initiate projects to create new computer applications, erect bridges and buildings, improve processes, develop new products, and reorganize company operations. Unfortunately, most organizations do not manage projects well, creating an unprecedented demand for project management practitioners. If you’re organized, perceptive, detail-oriented, and an excellent communicator, you just might have what it takes to succeed in the fast-growing field of project management. If you’re new to project management, this course will provide you with the essential information you’ll need to prepare for and complete your first project. If you’re an experienced project manager, this course will make you more valuable to your employer by increasing your skills and competencies. This course will also help you prepare for the internationally recognized Project Management Professional (PMP®) and Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM®) exams offered by the Project Management Institute, PMI®. Urban Ministry 2.0 is a professional development training which consists of two classes that explore the history and basic fundamentals of urban ministry. These are credit-free professional development classes with faculty, teachers and experts who are leaders in the areas of urban ministry, faith and religion. This program is valuable and useful for both lay leaders, church leaders and anyone interested in faith or ministry.

This certificate is a redesigned educational program that focuses on how the urban environment is affected by churches, faith-based groups and spirituality. These courses will allow you to explore in greater detail the aspects of urban ministry and how it affects the world we live in both locally and globally. Many aspects of interfaith will be discussed, reviewed and discovered. Courses do not come from one specific area of religion but allow you to explore faith from many different perspectives, facts and opinions.

Urban Ministry 2.0 is not a vocational or theological training program which is endorsed by an overarching theology institution. Students will learn components and practices that may be useful when assisting people in urban ministry or counseling, but this program is not a certifying certificate or license.

Capacity College

Capacity College is truly “teaching a man to fish,” ensuring that participants leave with the knowledge and skills to begin building their own capacity to effectively manage and grow their organizations.

Capacity College is designed to be a series of “courses” covering several different topics that affect organizations daily.

Capacity College is a program of ReNU Niagara intended to provide community partners with tools to improve the capacity of their own organization.

This new initiative, formed in celebration of ReNU Niagara’s 10 year anniversary in July 2016, is geared towards grassroots organizations with the purpose of empowering those who attend to take what they learn and apply it to the work that they do within their organization.

The first course topic, grant training, will teach participants the basics of grants. The 9-week course (one, two-hour session each week) is broken down into classes covering basic aspects of grants, including finding, applying for and managing them.

Throughout the course, participants will be finding and writing a mock grant proposal, with week 9 being the final review of the applications progress.

Course begins 9/20 with a final review on 11/15.

Please register for this program by contacting ReNU at 716.205.0287 or www.niagara.edu/renu
Fee: $20

Online Courses

Online courses are informative, fun, convenient, and highly interactive. Our instructors are famous for their ability to create warm and supportive communities of learners. All courses run for six weeks (with a two week grace period at the end). Courses are project-oriented and include lessons, quizzes, hands-on assignments, discussion areas, supplementary links, and more. Courses brought to you in partnership with Ed2go.

Our online courses run for six weeks and two lessons are released each week for the six-week duration of the course. You do not have to be present when lessons are released. As such, we strongly recommend that you complete each lesson within two weeks of its release.

The final exam will be released on the same day as the last lesson. Once the final exam has been released, you will have two weeks to complete all of your course work, including the final exam.

Project Management Fundamentals
If you’re organized, perceptive, detail-oriented, and an excellent communicator, you just might have what it takes to succeed in the fast-growing field of project management. If you’re new to project management, this course will provide you with the information you’ll need to prepare for and complete your first project. If you’re an experienced project manager, this course will make you more valuable to your employer by increasing your skills and competencies. This course will also help you prepare for the internationally recognized Project Management Professional (PMP®) and Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM®) exams offered by the Project Management Institute, PMI®.
Open 24/7 and course is 6 weeks
Fee $125
